Introduction

Wooden house toys of Chinese House series are a line of products in the style of Chinese wooden culture, in which more than 2000 processing and 100 assembling procedures are used. It is especially noteworthy that no nail, glue or wooden wedge are used in the house toy, and that all parts are connected together by tongue and groove structures of abnormal combination style originating from jointing techniques of Chinese ancient carpentry(1800 years ago).

Some wooden house look like a Chinese ancient tavern or teahouse, while some look like a resting pavilion or farmhouse by the road.

The house toys of Chinese House series are all made by finest materials, in excellent workmanship and with unique structure.

Furthermore, the house toys of Chinese House series are also an intellectual maze, so they cannot be both built and disassembled easily. If you are interested in building a house by yourself, just start from the house toys! They will bring into full play of your wisdom and intelligence, and show your creative ability.
